Charles Baldwin Appointed to Hear iness Transacted By the Commis-

The Utah commission met yesterday and finished the work of appointing judges of election, although changes will doubtless be made before Novem ber 6. The commission also disposed of other important matters.

PARTY NOMINEES. Commissioner Tatlock offered the following resolution, which was adopt-and deputy registrars of this territory and any judge of election who has been hereinbefore appointed to such position or place by this commission and who has, since the date of such appointment, been nominated by either political par ty or who shall be nominated hereafter prior to the election in November for any office, either territorial or county, is hereby required to forward to th commission immediately after accepting such nomination, his resignation as such registrar or judge. Where it is impossible to notify the commission by mail of such resignation in time for the appointment of others prior to Novem-ber 6, such resignations must be for-warded by telegraph. The clerk of this commission is directed to notify parties in interest of this action at once.

The following resolution was sub-mitted by Commissioner Sherman: Resolved. That under the authority vested in the commission by the ninth section of the Edmunds law of 1882, and under the procedent established by the Utah commission on October 9, 1893, this commission does hereby appoint Mr. Charles Baldwin as a deputy regis-teriton of the County. Mr. Charles Baldwin as a deputy registration officer for Salt Lake county. William Bardolph, D.; B. R. McDonald, and order that he be detailed, after proper notice is given of the time and place, to hear objections and decide on George H. Darrow, D.; R. D. Lender, R. North W. Water (No. 6)—S. S. Carroll, Taylor, D.; Charles H. Turner, R. the right to vote of any person regis-tered in Salt Lake city, in conformity with section 248, s. 8, pages 329 and 321, vol. 1, compiled laws of Utah. CHARLES BALDWIN TO HEAR OB-JECTIONS. It was lost and this substitute, offered by Commissioner Norrell, was adopt-

Resolved, That Charles Baldwin is hereby appointed a deputy registrar for the First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth precincts of Salt Lake city, for the purpose of hearing objections to the right to vote of any person registered, and that the compensation of such work shall not exceed 35 a day for time actually and necessarily employed. W. L. Peyton was appointed to act in the same capacity for the Ogden

THE COURT ROOM CROWDED.

THE CONDUCT OF THE DEFENDAN AFTER THE MURDER.

Thiede Used the Expression "I wounds" Killed My Wife Last Night" and Afterwards Took it Back and Said "Some One Killed My Wife Last Night"-Dr. Ferrebee and Others Testify About the Blood Stains.

Yesterday was the sixth day of the trial of the Thiede murder case. By 4 o'clock in the afternoon the prosecution announced they were through with the exception of the examination of one witness who, owing to sickness, "Yes."

"Did Thiede enter his wife was dead or not when he found her?"

"The said he lifted her up and she exclaimed, 'Oh, Charley.'"

"Did Thiede enter his wife was dead or not when he found her?" of one witness who, owing to sickness, could not be present until this morning. Court then adjourned till 10 a. m. today, when, after the examination of the prosecution's remaining witness, iff came which is expected to be brief, the defense will open.

The courtroom was crowded yesterday as much as any day since the trial began.

SHERIFF McQUEEN recalled, in reply to Judge Cherry, said he had no warrant when he arrested Thiede. "Do you know what time the indus trial army went down to Murray, and tion?" Objected to by Mr. Howat as not proper cross-examination. Objection sustained.

"Did you testify before the coroner in this case and at the preliminary examination?"

"I did before the coroner, but not at the preliminary examination. "Yes, there were numerous spots of blood; there was also blood spots at the east end of the saloon; there were pools of coagulated blood about five feet from the southeast corner of the building, on the ground. There was also blood spots about 25 feet from the building."
"Was there are

"Was there any appearance of a struggle having taken place on the ground?"

"Yes."

"Were there any traces of blood from the south door of the saloon to where the blood pools were on the ground?"

"I didn't see any."

"On the following day did you make an examination of the old brewery?"

"Yes; in a storeroom in the brewery I found an ax and a yard stick on which there were fresh blood stains, also on the side of the wall above where the stick and the ax were lying, there were hand-marks in blood." there were hand-marks in blood."
"Were there any blood stains on the outside of the brewery door?"
"I didn't observe any?"

"When you and the sheriff were on the road to Murray, did you form any conjectures as to who committed the murder?"

"After you got to Murray and before you arrived at Thiede's place, did you speculate as to who had done the

the defendant wore when arr were shown to the witness, iden and the blood marks pointed out. "You say there were blood stains on the linoleum on the lunch counter in the saloon?" "Yes, there was blood on the line eum that covered the counter."

What became of the lineleum?" "It was brought down to the sheriff's fice and introduced in evidence at the reliminary examination, after which believe it was brought back to the eriff's office. "Have you seen it since?"

"No. I have not."
DEPUTY MARSHAL ARCHER.

Deputy Marshal L. L. Archer was next called. Mr. Cherry objected to his testifying for the reason that notwithstanding the order of the whinstanding the order of the court, the witness had been present during a portion of the time that Montgomery, the previous witness, was being examined. Mr. Archer said he didn't know of the order excluding witnesses and his honor overruled Mr. Cherry's objection. In the reply to Mr. Howat, the witness said he had seen blood stains an ax handle and on a stick in t brewery.

"Did you see any blood stains on the linoleum on the lunch counter?"
"Yes, there were two or three spots, as if a bloody hand had been placed upon it."

"Did he say anything about getting into the house to look for evidence as to how she came to her death?" "Yes, he asked me to get the key from her pocket."

IN THE AFTERNOON.
The court took a recess for luncheon and on reassembling at 2 o'clock Dr. Ferrebee again took the stand.
In reply to Judge Cherry, on crossex examination, he said he was awakened by a knocking at his door on the morning of the murder. Thiede and "the old German" (Laurenberger) came there to gether. Witness's clerk opened the door and Thiede walked in to his bedroom, pulled the bedclothing down and said: "Oh, my wife's throat is cut!" "and," added the witness, "I gathered from what he said that he wanted me to go with him at once."

"I kept it till I saw alf. Weiler, and gave it to him."
"What kind of a knife was it?"
"A black-handled butcher-knife with the point broken off."
The knife was here produced and identified by the witness.
"How did Thiede act all that morning?"

"He was excited and kept saying:
"Oh, my wife is dead and my little girl "Did he cry?" "No."
"Did you notice if there was any blood on Thiede's hands when you got into the saloon?"
"I didn't notice."

"I didn't notice."

"Was there any dripping of blood from the body as you carried it into the saloon?"

"I don't know; there were drops of blood on the floor which may have been from the body."

By Judge Howat:
"Did the demonstrations of sorrow shown by Thiede continue while he was selling the industrial army man the whisky?"

"He made no demonstratons while cold and the blood congulated.

"Did you hear the conversation between the sheriff and Thiede when the former first appeared on the scene?"
"I saw them talking together, but I didn't hear what they said."
"Is there a portion of the blood, the cerum, which remains liquid after coagulation?"

"Would it be liable to drip while the body was being carried into the house?"
"It is very probable."
"Would the cerum stain the floor?"
"Not as much as blood with the corpuscies in it."

JACOB LAUENBERGER,

recalled by Mr. Howat:
